

Ones to watch in law

by Bernadette Starzee

Published: September 25th, 2013

Hon. James F.X. Doyle

Special Counsel, Campolo, Middleton & McCormick

Doyle, who retired from his post as Suffolk County Court judge and acting New York State Supreme Court justice last year, recently joined the Bohemia law firm's litigation department. His judicial experience includes a decade as an elected Suffolk County Family Court judge and as a Suffolk County Supreme Court justice in the matrimonial, civil law and mental health terms. Prior to being named to the bench, Doyle was in the U.S. Air Force, serving as a captain and attorney on the Trial & Defense Counsel. He is a graduate of Fordham Law School.

Charlotte A. Biblow

Partner, Farrell Fritz

Biblow leads the Uniondale-based law firm's environmental practice group. She also focuses her practice in land use, municipal law and commercial litigation. In addition to contributing to the firm's blog on Long Island land use and zoning, she writes a column for the New York Law Journal on state environmental regulation. Recently, Biblow was elected president of the board of directors of Sustainable Long Island, a Farmingdale nonprofit. She also serves on the boards of the Queensborough Community College Fund Inc. and the Women's Fund of Long Island.

Roy W. Breitenbach

Partner/Director, Garfunkel Wild

Breitenbach wears many hats at the Great Neck law firm, where he co-chairs the litigation and arbitration group and is a member of the appellate litigation, environmental and personal service and estate planning practice groups. He has extensive commercial trial and arbitration experience representing health-care providers, businesses entities and individuals in a wide range of matters, including antitrust disputes, business divorces, complex commercial and real estate disputes, will contests and health care reimbursement disputes. Breitenbach has authored articles and lectured to other attorneys on trial practice, evidence and civil litigation issues.

Steven G. Gaebler

Partner, Forchelli, Curto, Deegan, Schwartz, Mineo & Terrana

Gaebler concentrates his practice in commercial lending and commercial real estate transactions. As co-chairman of the banking and finance law department for the Uniondale law firm, he represents financial institutions in complex mortgage and asset-based lending transactions, including those involving construction lending, letters of credit, Industrial Development Agency and other bond financing, leasehold mortgage financing and condominium and cooperative financing. He has a broad background in commercial real estate transactions, having represented a variety of clients, including large, publicly traded corporations, in the purchase, sale, development, construction, financing and leasing of properties.

Scott Newman

Counsel, Meltzer Lippe

As counsel in the Mineola firm's tax law and trusts and estates practice groups, Newman handles a wide range of matters. He creates, implements and administers sophisticated estate plans for individuals and families. He also represents beneficiaries and fiduciaries in Surrogate's Court proceedings, advises clients on charitable giving matters and provides asset protection planning services. Another piece is counseling clients on life insurance, including as it applies to business succession planning. Prior to his tenure with Meltzer Lippe, Newman worked in the Manhattan offices of three international law firms.

Mark N. Reinharz

Member, Bond, Schoeneck & King

For more than 25 years, Reinharz has practiced exclusively in labor and employment law. Based in the law firm's Garden City office, he represents private employers in many industries, including real estate, entertainment and manufacturing, as well as villages, towns and school districts. His practice includes discrimination claims, wage-and-hour litigation, collective bargaining arbitrations, workplace investigations and noncompetition agreements. He has counseled hundreds of managers in preventing harassment and violence in the workplace. Reinharz was selected for inclusion in the 2014 "Best Lawyers" in America publication.